[Rights and Regulations]

- Entries must be applicant's original pieces that have not been announced both domestically and internationally.
- Entries that have also been submitted in other contests or competitions shall not be accepted. In addition, the entry shall not be posted publicly without the consent of the promoter.
- All rights of the winning entry, including intellectual property rights in Japan and in all countries around the world (including the rights provided in Articles 27 and 28 of the Copyright Act), shall belong to the promoter and the entry applicant shall not exercise moral rights. Compensation for those rights shall be fulfilled with prize money.
- As a general rule, the rights, such as intellectual property rights, for entries that did not win an award shall belong to the applicant. However, the rights related to replication, publication, presentation and exhibition in regard to purposes related to this award, within the required scope, shall be retained by the promoter.
- If the entries and submitted materials (illustrations or images used therein) infringe the intellectual property rights of a third party (including infringement after entry), any award conferred may be withdrawn even after the results have been announced.
- We take every possible measure for the management of entries submitted, however, the promoter shall not be liable in any way for damage or loss due to a disaster or other unforeseen accident.
- Entries shall not be returned. When necessary, make a copy beforehand.
- For minors, consent from a parent or guardian is required when receiving an award.

[Privacy Policy]

The personal information of the applicant shall be managed by Sangetsu Corporation and only be used within the required scope for business communication, sharing event related news or statistical processing.
